

I am totally against the use of cell phones in the air. As a flight attendant, it is going to cause more air rage than what we see today. Passengers, like myself, want to enjoy our flight, we don't want to hear people talking on their cell phones, especially since some people don't have enough consideration when they are on the phone to keep a low voice. People need to relax and enjoy their flight, business people already complain that they can't get away from their work. Please do not allow cell phone usage in the air, we have enough to deal with already with security than with obnoxious people and their phone conversations!
